

Civil Guard Formed, Gladman Is Leader, Council Votes $100

ORGANIZATION HAS BLESS-ING OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL

RIFLES WANTED

A "volunteer civil guard" is being formed in Newmarket.

Three resolutions concerning it were passed by the town council
on Monday evening.

Wm. Dixon-A. V. Higginson:
That the town co-operate with the province in forming a volunteer civil guard.

A. V. Higginson-Wm. Dixon:
That the council request of Aubrey Doan, Glenville, use of his property for target practice.

Vale-Dixon: That the town make a grant of $100 to the organization.

"We had a meeting on Saturday night for the purpose of forming a civil guard, as distinguished from a home guard,"
H. M. Gladman, war veteran, informed the town council on Monday evening.

Mr. Gladman was appointed leader and he had named two assistants, Alex. Eves and R. C.

Morrison, who accompanied him.
"Our idea was to start with about 25 men divided into squads of four, with a car to each group," Mr. Gladman said. "Our idea was to start in a small way."

Mr. Gladman said he believed that someone with more time than himself should be the commanding officer.

A memorandum from Attorney-General G. D. Conant regarding volunteer civil guards was read
by N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk

Some of the suggestions were:

contacted for advice and co-op-

Town Finds A Better 'Ole May Serve Till War Ends

HOLD HOPE GREEN LANE WELL NEED NOT BE DEVELOPED

Possibility that the town will not go ahead with the green lane
well project at the present time,
was suggested by Councillor Arthur D. Evans at a town council meeting on Monday evening.

Experiment with one of the test-holes which the International Water Supply Co. sank at the waterworks last year but did not develop revealed as much as 70 gallons a minute, Mr. Evans said.

There is now a slight flow from the well all the time, without pumping.

"It bears out Mr. Rachar's statement that he thought he could, if given a chance, increase the flow, and also that he could conserve water," said Mr. Evans.

"We may be able to get along while the war is on."

"It would be better to spend money on extra storage space
than to go out to the green lane
and then have to provide extra storage as well."

Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd, answering Councillor Bowser, said the water from the green lane testhole was good water but that a satisfactory test had not been made yet.

Mr. Evans said that there was a likely place to sink a test-hole about two-thirds of the way in toward Huron St. in an effort to find the same water. He also said that a possibility would be to pipe the water to the Strigley
St. well and use the same iron removal plant and the same pump to put the water into the mains.

"We have also talked to the engineers about the Bogartown creek water, but they are not enthusiastic," he said.

worth, Newmarket, Miss Lillian

ren's Aid Society to accept

Air Force as an apprentice druggist at Bolton, has offered his services to the air

WILL GIVE TRAINING

Col. R. C. Merriek, M.C., E.D., officer commanding the Queen's York Rangers, has made an offer

York county.

TANNERY HARD HIT BY WAR CONDITIONS

Due to the closing of markets
abroad for the fine calf leathers
of the Davis Leather Co., a substantial number of men are being laid off at the plant. Britain has provided one of the best markets
for Davis calf leather, and sales in Britain are naturally away down.

Asked to rush government orders
ahead of schedule, the Office Specialty has been increasing its staff and has absorbed some of the men from the tannery.

DIXON PENCIL MAKES PATRIOTIC GESTURE

Dixon Pencil employees enlisting receive a promise of re-employment on their return from active service, and any militia officers required to serve receive compensation from the company
for loss of remuneration.

This is according to a resolution of the parent company,
Joseph Dixon Crucible Co., Jersey City, U.S.A., received from J. S. Law, general manager of the Dixon Pencil Co., Newmarket.

"No employee shall be penalized for service in the armed forces of the United States or Canada," the resolution states.
"This implies that no one now obligated to or entering the service shall lose his seniority."

BRADFORD TEACHER JOINS SCHOOL STAFF

Laurie W. Melbourne, Bradford, was appointed to the public school teaching staff at a meeting of the public school board
on Monday evening.

Replacing Raymond J. Taylor,
who has resigned, Mr. Melbourne will be the grade VI teacher at the King George school and a part-time teacher of manual training. There were 68 appli-

SCRAPPY KING CLANCY NEVER WON A FIGHT

FAMED HOCKEY STARS
ATTEND COLLEGE
SPORTS DINNER

ARE SPEAKERS

By JACK PEPIATT

Happy Day, Sylvanus Apps
and Hec Creighton embellished the Pickering College annual athletic dinner last Thursday
with wit, sarcasm and stories.

For the benefit of the uninitiated,
Day is the newly-appointed coach of the Maple Leaf hockey team, Apps its star right-winger
and Creighton is the diminutive
chief referee of the Interprovincial Rugby Union.

Speaking about the peerless
King Clancy, Day said: "Clancy was one of the greatest hockey players of all time. He had more fighting spirit than any other player in the league, in fact, as much as five players. In spite of this," smiled Hap, "he was never known to win a fight."

Clancy was winding up his last season in hockey and had not as yet won a fight. "So,"
said Day, "Chuck and I decided to give him a winner."

"Sure enough, during the next game, Clancy started swinging.
Chuck and I rushed to his assistance and found King in his usual position—on the bottom. We turned them over and decided then and there to consolidate the picture."

Day said that he and Conacher
then turned around to intercept other players anxious to join the fight. After a while Conacher looked back to see how Clancy was making out and yelled to Day: "For crying out loud Hap, it's no use, he's on the bottom
again."

"There isn't much fun for a hockey official," Day declared.
He related one incident that occurred when he and Bill Stewart were in charge of a game.
It concerned a prominent doctor,
who, well into the second period,
had been heaping abuse on the officials for penalizing Red Horner.

"Stewart gave Red a penalty—
one of the many Red didn't deserve—near this doctor. The doctor called Stewart a horse-thief, robber and a Jesse James for making such a mistake. So Stewart sidled up and spoke to the doctor.

"It's too bad, doctor, that I have to make mistakes and get called down for them, but you make yours and bury them," Hap indicated that the angry customer was greatly deflated
by these wise words.

Day stated that he had been worried as to whether he should accept the coaching job when it was offered by Conn Smythe.
However, after he found that literally hundreds of people had their definite and different opinions on how the Leafs should be handled, he felt proud that he "was selected out of so many entries." Hap concluded by saying that there was a good living,
a healthy and honorable living to be obtained from hockey. That has been well-proved by the home sons that have and do represent Newmarket in big-time hockey.

Syl Apps said that it was fun
to play hockey, that after he returned from the Olympics he received an offer of a contract
from Smythe and accepted it with some qualms (because in Paris, his home-town, the reputation of professional hockey players wasn't what it should be). Said that one family he knew well felt that hockey wasn't so-so, but that indication they had changed their minds came when they allowed him to marry their daughter.

Town will abandon SIGN AT GATEWAY

A sign on the Triangle service station at Eagle and Yonge Sts. will be given to the proprietor and a $12 monthly rebate on his electricity bill will be discontinued, on recommendation of Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale, chairman of the industrial committee, made at a town council meeting Monday evening.

If the town removed the sign,
it would have to repair the roof
of the station, Mr. Vale said.

TAX PAYMENTS ARE UP TO LAST YEAR'S

Tax payments are up to those of 1939. N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor, reported to the town council on Monday evening.

Payments up to June 15 were $58,698.39, compared with $56,235.29
last year. The increase of $2,463
was accounted for by an increase of $3,560 in the levy. Mr. Mathews said.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY WILL HOLD PEONY SHOW

The Newmarket Horticultural society is holding a peony show
in the Christian church on Saturday, June 22. There will be a draw for a basket of flowers
at 9.30 p.m. Prizes will be given in war savings stamps. There will be no charge.

THEY GUIDE DESTINIES OF LIONS CLUB

Installed as officers of the Newmarket Lions club at the annual ladies' night, these three men will be the club's presiding officers for 1940-41. Installation took place at Walnut View Rendezvous on Tuesday night and was conducted by W. L.

Bosworth, deputy-district governor of Lions clubs. Appearing above are (from left to right) Gordon L. Manning, 1st vice-president, J. S. Law, president, and Frank Bowser, 2nd vice-president.

SECOND BIG BAND NIGHT IS TONIGHT

Despite the cool weather
of yesterday, a fairly good crowd turned up at the bands' garden party, which was held on Mrs. Baque's lawn last evening and quite a number enjoyed the supper
served by the women.

Tonight is the street dance
and carnival, which features
the first appearance in Canada of the Arkansas Travellers' orchestra, and Art West's orchestra for old time
and modern dancing.

There will be games, concessions and a floor show,
the grand draw for prizes,
as well as a soap box derby.

CONSTABULARY DUTIES BECOME TOO HEAVY

"Since war has broken out the police are very much over-worked,"
said Councillor Wm. Dixon, chairman of the police committee, at a town council meeting Monday evening.

"Mr. Sloss has worked as much as 22 hours a day," said Mr. Dixon.
"What would you think of employing an extra man?"

"Part-time?" asked the mayor.
Dr. S. J. Boyd.

"No, he would like to have a full-time man," said Mr. Dixon.

Councillors A. D. Evans and D. O. Munzovan expressed the opinion that the police officers should take their day off whether they want to or not, and that an extra man be engaged when necessary to relieve them.

Mayor Boyd expressed opposition
to employing a full-time constable.
"Mr. Sloss has some extra duties to perform at the present time and he would like some help until he is through," said Dr. Boyd.

"It is almost a full-time job looking after the office and answering the telephone," said Mr. Dixon.

It was agreed that the police committee should engage part-time assistance.

WE'RE PROUD OF IT

The Era calls attention with pride to the upper right-hand corner of this page, where this weekly newspaper's net paid average circulation for the month of May is given.

This is the second successive month that The Era has been able to give this information, and we would like to explain just what it means. It is "net paid" circulation because it does not include any subscription in arrears (we haven't a single subscription in arrears), it does not include any free copies to exchange or national advertising agencies or to "sisters, cousins or aunts" and it does not include any service copies to correspondents or local advertisers and it does not include any Eras left at the newsstands unsold (daily newspapers make the dealer pay for all the copies he takes and they are counted as sold regardless of whether they are sold as reading matter or as scrap paper), or any Eras kept in the office as file copies or left over or taken by employees.

If you will look at the upper left-hand corner you will see
"this week's press-run." There is quite a substantial difference between our press run and what we call our circulation. At one time The Era used to speak of its press run as its circulation, but we no longer do that because it is misleading and does not give the public the information
it is entitled to.

For four or five years we have been publishing circulation figures, but always before we had to give the circulation as
of a particular date, because we didn't have accurate circulation figures for every week. But now we are able to give actual net paid averages, and we are proud of it.

We are proud of it because we do not believe that any other local weekly in Canada gives this information about its circulation — about the product which it sells to advertisers.

ST.'S FALLEN ARCHES BLAMED ON COUNTY

A request that the Toronto and York Roads Commission take "immediate action" to improve the Main St. pavement was made in a resolution passed by the town council on Monday evening.

The resolution, introduced by Reeve Fred A. Lundy, stated that in 1921 the county "by way of experiment put down a pavement with a loose stone base and bitulithic top, assuring the council of that year and the property-owners that in the judgment of the commission and its engineers
the loose stone base was equal to or better than the standard type of pavement laid on a concrete base."

The resolution continued that the experiment had proved "very unsatisfactory and has resulted in an annual repair bill to the town of Newmarket has lost
each year its share of the county rebate."

The resolution cited "inconvenience" to the ratepayers of Newmarket.

"Will that protest lead the county council to pave Huron St.
and put Main St. back on us?"
asked Councillor A. D. Evans.

Mr. Dixon joined in this question.

"I want this protest to be on record so that we can have Main St. properly fixed up before they do give it back to us," said
Mr. Lundy.

"This is a smart move on the part of the reeve," said Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd. "If they had put a proper base in, we wouldn't have had this annual repair bill."

"The county admits this mistake," said Mr. Lundy.

BELIEVE MILK BOTTLE THEFTS ARE STOPPED

Apprehension of two boys about 13 years old on charges of stealing money from milk bottles
was made by Newmarket police this week.

The boys admitted systematic pilfering of milk bottles throughout the town, and will appear in juvenile court.

Twenty-five cents pays for The Era for six weeks.

KILLDEERS LIVE THROUGH ORDEAL

The nest of a Killdeer Plover with its four eggs on one of the driveways at the Newmarket cemetery was protected by the cemetery staff during the Decoration day proceedings on Sunday.

The plovers made valiant efforts to coax the public away from the nest, rushing at the spectators
and then feigning injury and limping away.

Redmen Add Another Victory, As Belated Rally Turns Trick

ALEX. WEBSTER REVEALS OLD-TIME FORM IN PITCHERS' BATTLE

By RALPH M. ADAMS

By the help of a seventh inning rally, Newmarket Redmen defeated the "Flies" by a 5-3
score at Camp Borden Tuesday night.

After hurling six innings of practically faultless ball, "Lefty"
Smith, the ace of the Flies pitching staff, weakened and the reds made every shot count to score four of their five markers
in their last turn at bat.

Webster, making his first start of the season, pitched almost as well as Smith for the entire route and really finished stronger than the Force man. Jack Luck, third-sacker of the reds,
had to be replaced in the fourth
when he tripped on the home-plate, scoring the first Newmarket run and suffered a sprained ankle. Doug Trivett took his place.

The flies, as was to be expected, brought some new faces
into the fray Tuesday night, playing at least four men who had not seen action previously against the redmen. Just before the game ended, "Bud" Bulmer tripped in his new spikes, fielding a ball in left-field, and came close to sharing Luck's fate.
Welch went in to relieve him

and take the weight off his feet.

Flies Gain Lead
After both teams went out in order in the first inning, the Flies went into action on Webster and "grabbed the lead.
Longpre fanned to open the second but Smith came through with a single to right and Walker
followed with a double to centre

Two 13-Year-Olds Have Idea To Help Red Cross

WONDERFUL DISPLAY OF WORK GREETS SCHOOL
VISITORS

A school exhibition par excellence took place at Stuart Scott school on Friday evening. Principal H. A. Jackson and his staff from the three public schools,
with their pupils, played hosts to parents and citizens.

One of the bright (red, white and blue) spots of the evening was the enterprise of two pupils
in securing permission to sell candy for the benefit of the Red Cross Society. Conceiving the idea themselves, they secured the necessary permission and then sought the co-operation of Main St. merchants in giving the candy. The result was $11.67 for the Red Cross.

The two girls, Marion Klees
and Marilyn MacInnis, both 13
years old, made their own red, white and blue booth and their own red, white and blue uniforms. They were particularly anxious to give a full share of credit to the merchants who made their enterprise possible.

The Dr. J. C. R. Edwards cup for the best school exhibit of manual training was won by King George school. Mrs. J. C.
R. Edwards' household science shield was won by Alexander Muir school.

For the best individual manual training work a miniature of the large cup went to Bob Spear, grade VIII, King George school,
for "keeps." In household science a miniature cup went to Ruth Winger, grade VIII, King George school. Honorable mention in household science went to Margaret MacInnis, grade VIII, Alexander Muir school.

In John Scott's bird-house competition for his own pupils
at Alexander Muir school Gordon Pearson and Gordon Hill were tied and both received prizes.

John Purdy and R. J. Taylor
are the manual training teachers.
Miss Evelyn Denne and Miss Hazel Hamby are the household science teachers.

The work on exhibition from both departments was splendid.
Noteworthy was the exhibition of drawings, ink sketches and water-colors. The halls and one upstairs classroom were decorated with the art work, taught
by Miss Florence E. E. Staunton, an extremely gifted teacher.

Newmarket public schools,
with a special art teacher for the last two years, is considered a
"jump" ahead of the average town schools.

The girls of the household science department served tea to all the visitors. Mrs. Edwards presented her shield, and Rev.
Burton Hill presented Dr.
Edwards' shield.

PLANTS FIRST COPPER BEECH IN 100,000 TREES

Sir William Mulock planted
his first copper beech tree on Lady Eaton's country estate near Aurora last Thursday. He has time. He performed the ceremony for the society of the Men

VISITORS AGAIN TAKE OFFICE SPECIALTY CUP

The annual competition for the Office Specialty trophy, held at the local bowling greens yesterday, attracted 16 rinks, the prize
going to Mr. Kennedy's rink from Uxbridge.

The second prize went to E.
Wurm's entry from Markham and Mr. Hatcher's rink from Toronto, last year's cup holders, took third prize. A local entry of C.
F. Willis, Al. White, F. H. Hew-son and Walter Johns won the fourth prize, being the only successful Newmarket rink.

SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME

Everyone who has read H. G. Wells' Outline of History will remember how scornful he was of the way in which "the Big Four," Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Wilson and Orlando, drew the new boundaries and planned the League of Nations in 1919. Within a couple of years after the peace treaty Mr. Wells put his finger on what he considered the mistakes in the settlement of the "war to end wars." Critical as he was, however, of the treaty of Versailles, he remained an optimist and an idealist. He believed that the nations had made a beginning in international government and that as hatreds receded the dominant nations would remedy the injustices in the treaty. Writing in 1922 of the Genoa conference, in which Germany and Russia joined on invitation of the other powers, he wrote: "The powers might still differ, but now they differed in council and not apart."

Had he gone on with the story he would have told how eventually the disarmament conferences failed, how Germany began to rearm, how the League of Nations gradually lost what little prestige it had as it refused, first, to act against Japan in Manchuria, and second, except half-heartedly against Italy in Ethiopia.

Mr. Wells devoted chapters to criticism of British, French and German imperialism. He never closed his eyes to the faults, failures and blunders of Britain.

From him therefore we can expect a judgment on events today which will not be unduly pro-British. Joining with other well-known writers of the International Pen club, Mr. Wells last week signed the following declaration:

"The future, not of our nation alone but that of all nations, is being decided.

"Our country has been blamed in the past for actions most manifestly taken because we hoped by them to avert war. We failed.

"It is not only life which is threatened. It is freedom of conscience and, if it is lost, as it is lost wherever the Nazi power extends, life itself is not worth a breath.

"We ask you, with the confidence that you will judge us fairly, to support us as best you can in a struggle which is not ended yet. We do not expect defeat. We expect danger and we are able to face it. We expect your belief in us.

"And we pledge ourselves on our part to remember that a lasting peace can be based only on justice. We do not desire and we will set our faces against revenge."

The appeal was addressed to "the conscience of the world."

"BURN THE FLEET AND RUIN FRANCE?"

The French, led by Marshal Petain, who declared at Verdun during the great war, "They shall not pass!", seek an "honorable peace."

If Britain and France were right in taking up arms, ostensibly on behalf of Poland, there can be no "honorable peace," as long as Hitler roams at large.

France took up arms not because of obligation to Poland. The commitment to Poland was deliberately entered into, a few weeks before Germany made war on Poland, with the knowledge that it meant almost certain war. A year earlier Britain and France decided not to meet their obligations to Czechoslovakia because they were not ready for war and they felt that they might save themselves and Europe from war.

Then Germany broke her agreement made at Munich. She took the rest of Czechoslovakia. Poland grabbed a little piece too, but Germany didn't mind, for she intended to swallow Poland in due course. Again disregarding Munich, Germany began to make demands on Poland. Again Britain offered to help Germany and Poland reach a reasonable settlement, but Germany wasn't interested.

Britain and France decided then that there could be no "honorable peace" while Hitler ruled Germany. They hurriedly made commitment to Poland amounted to a declaration of war on Germany.

In defending herself against Britain and France, in their war to crush Hitlerism, Germany invaded five neutral countries who had done her no injury, and, as a part of the strategy of "total war," deliberately bombed and machine-gunned refugee hordes to choke Allied military roads.

Britain and France made war on Germany because they believed that Germany's ultimate aim was to destroy them. Hitler has repeatedly declared that purpose during the last few months. Now France, beaten in her homeland, but still unbeaten on the seas, in Africa, in the air, and throughout the British Commonwealth, seeks an "honorable peace."

What does Marshal Petain mean by an "honorable peace"? He must mean that France will quit fighting, make some colonial concessions, and retain her navy and air force and army. He cannot believe that Germany would concede to France the right to re-arm. He can hardly believe that Germany is ready to evacuate French soil.

What "honorable peace" will Germany grant France except a truce while Germany tries to destroy Britain, planning to return to the destruction of France when "the chief culprit" has been dealt with? Marshal Petain is a simple old man, apparently, with an old-fashioned code of honor, who is ready to accept Hitler's word "as between soldiers after the fighting."

France will have to remember that Hitler is making plans for Germany for the "next 1,000 years." If France goes down, Germany does not intend to let her rise in 20 years.

Nor should France be fooled with the implied compliment contained in Germany's talk about Britain as "the chief culprit." Germans are not likely to have forgotten that it was the French who were the hardest on the defeated enemy in 1919. It was the French who occupied Germany territory with Negro troops and it was the British who tried to keep the French from occupying the Ruhr district. The Germans have not forgotten that it was the British who tried to give them a helping hand upwards in those early days and the French who continued to hate and depress the Germans.

It was easier, of course, for Britain, from the supposed security of her island home, for Britain, who had not had her cities destroyed, to forgive and forget, but the fact remains that Britain is, from Germany's point of view, the "chief culprit" only because she is the principal obstacle to German world power.

France's choice is between an "honorable peace" like Czechoslovakia obtained in 1938, and throwing every ounce of her remaining strength on the side of Britain.

Whichever course she chooses, her only hope lies in the ultimate success of Britain.

"Burn the fleet and ruin France? That were worse than fifty Huguos."

REGIMENTATION OR CONSCRIPTION?

The Globe and Mail calls for the "regimentation of wealth, man-power, industry, properly—regimentation of everything." York county council would "conscript" wealth, industry and man-power.

Probably the ideas behind the two resolutions are similar but we prefer the Globe and Mail's use of the ugly word "regimentation" to the county council's "conscription." The reason is that the interpretation put on the county council's resolution is that the conscription of men for military service is a primary need. This is well illustrated by the "head" which a newspaper editor put on the county council report, "York County Council Wants Conscription," and the word "conscription" used by itself means only one thing, the conscription of men for military service. And of course conscription of men at a time when even those who are anxious to enlist cannot get into the army is not going to solve any problem.

We take it that the real meaning behind the two resolutions is the utilization of all the country's man-power in industry to produce the necessities of life and the necessities of war and the utilization of as many men in the armed forces as the country can properly equip. Just to put a man in uniform and to teach him to march and use a rifle does not make him an effective soldier. Britain and France failed to stop the Germans in Belgium and France not for lack of men, for Britain and France have a greater combined population than has Germany and they had for a while the assistance of more than a million Dutch and Belgian soldiers, but for lack of planes, tanks, bombs, guns, shells. They lacked equipment and for that reason they lost, when the Dutch and the Belgians laid down their arms, more men than Canada could possibly put in the field.

We see no objection to the "conscription" of men to work in war industries at low rates of pay, provided that management and capital are likewise conscripted to work at low rates of pay. Such a policy would enable the government to place far greater orders for munitions and equipment. It would enable Britain to buy far more cheaply in Canada than she is able to do now. It would make possible the putting of every man and woman to work, and the development of a powerful war machine.

When York county councillors, themselves men of moderate means, advocate conscription of men and money, we feel that they are promoting unintentionally as a principal aim the conscription of men for war service. When the Globe and Mail, owned by a millionaire, advocates the regimentation of men and money, we feel that there is a little more hope of wealth being called upon to make a fair sacrifice.

We feel that the Globe and Mail speaks sincerely when it says: "Wealth must be conscripted. The millionaire is no more sacred than the man without means. As long as there is a plutocrat left in complete control of his wealth we shall not be pulling our full weight. If we match the methods of totalitarianism there will not be a millionaire left with the freedom of his fortune." The Globe and Mail neglects to say that the spade-work of the C.C.F. during the last ten years prepared the ground for the Globe and Mail's radical statement, and made it possible for it to make such a proposal. And it would be interesting to hear an explanation of why its proposal would not be equally sound as a method of dealing, in peace-time, with under-nourishment, frustration, unemployment.

Must we have war before we can look calmly at the proposals of radicals? If we had adopted a sensible plan, ten years ago, or even five years ago, to put everybody to work, in industrial pursuits, building up this country, developing civil aviation, increasing the national wealth and health, instead of tomorrow, as the Globe and Mail proposes, we would be in a far better position today to meet the German challenge. And when the crisis is gone, and our skins are safe, will we forget?

The Common Round

CONTRASTS

By Isabel Inglis Colville

The other day I heard something which struck me with rather pitiful force, and which brought to my mind with terrible clarity, a little war picture.

We had listened as did all their other friends, with great pleasure and pride, to our Newmarket high school glee club, under Mrs. Lyons' able direction, the evening they broadcast from Toronto. Among the numbers given was—"There'll Always Be An England."

As I listened to them singing it joyously and triumphantly, I wondered just how far the words sank into their happy and as yet untouched young lives—untouched by the grim reality of the struggle that England is waging that she MAY live.

It was a passing thought, but it came back to me the next day with redoubled force, for we heard again:

"There'll always be an England, And England shall be free If England means as much to you As England means to me."

Again it was children who sang. Again it rang out joyously and triumphantly. But, as I listened, the tears came and I saw tears in the eyes of the rest of the family too, for the children who sang this time, were not singing from a broadcast station, safe and full of pleasure at giving pleasure, they were on board trains in England, being removed from danger zones to those a little safer.

They were leaving their parents, they knew not for how long. They were going to strange places and strange people, and yet they sang. They sang a song whose spirit is animating all England, and, if one changes the word England to empire, it is animating the world, wherever democracies still hold sway. There was never, I think, such contrasts in the SPIRIT of the world leaders as there is today.

These many years Hitler has dreamed, written, talked and boasted that to the Germans, and more particularly to the Austrian Herr Hitler, belongs the domination of the world. Unfortunately, he was able to implement his dreams to such an extent, that the same, democratic world, which could not believe his written statement of his intentions, was suddenly confronted with that same intention, clothed with power and in action.

The persons or peoples who are the victims of surprise are at a disadvantage, and lose much valuable time in late preparation, while the one who does the surprising, being in command of the situation is ready for action.

Like Alexander, like Caesar, like Attila, like Napoleon, Hitler has but one thought—the downfall of all and any who oppose him, and so on to the conquest of Europe. No great aggressors have ever been influenced by humanitarian motives. They seem to believe that "the end justifies the means," although in their case, the end is as bad as the means.

Misery, death, slavery, homelessness, plague and famine stalk always in the wake of these armies. They lay waste the treasures of the ages; they sear the souls of the conquered with such agony and hate as takes long to heal, and then, being mortal, they die, and what is left? Napoleon achieved leadership. He was a great soldier; he did a few fine things, and he became emperor of the French, and made and marred kingdoms, and yet, what is left? His memory as a great general lives on—but too many wars were won on his army and prepared the way for Waterloo and the desolation of St. Helena.

All these dictators of whom we have been thinking lately, Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini, as well as Alexander, Caesar, Attila, and Napoleon, were and are cold and calculating. No warmth of human emotion seems to animate them. "The state, the state!" they cry, but as far as we can see, it's the HEAD of the state, which is their first concern.

All of these men had and have something great in their characters, all have contributed something to their countries, but, what they have provincial armies, but Mr. Conant has got around legal difficulties by organizing his volunteer civil guards as police.

The organization of these guards fills a psychological need. The need is felt not principally by citizens seeking protection, but by men wanting to do something for their country. Even the men who are forming these guards are not clear as to the possible nature of their duties. In Newmarket the men say that they do not want to drill or be drilled, and the chief activity for the present seems likely to be target practice.

While not convinced of the usefulness of Mr. Conant's civil guard at the present time, we see in it commendable patriotic action. We see people struggling for an opportunity to make a contribution to the welfare of their country. The town is fortunate in the choice of a level-headed, experienced and thinking leader, Mr. H. M. Gladman.

However, there are certain dangers. The first is the possibility of someone getting injured. This danger should be at a minimum if the organizers follow carefully the attorney-general's suggestions. This calls first for the systematic registration of those who would like to serve, and then the careful choice from those volunteering of those who are best qualified as to "military" experience, character and judgment, in view of the fact that the guard may be armed. The instructions also add that the men selected should be approved in writing by the head or a member of the municipal council. In other words, says the attorney-general, don't rush into it. There taken from their own and other countries far outbalances the good. Hitler has taken education in its real sense from Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland. Where are Germany's musicians, artists, doctors, teachers and surgeons, and those of the conquered?—mostly in exile, or dead! Stalin and Hitler have killed family life and religion. Hitler and Mussolini have preached the right of their nations to a place in the sun. They would almost obscure the sun with the resplendent glory of their conquests, could they have their way.

They have a right to a place in the sun, but they have NO right to shut out the sun from the nations who do not want their way of living, and only ask the right to live their own way. The leaders of the democracies have had leadership thrust upon them in these days, when to make a mistake means adding to the holocaust of slaughter.

Churchill, Gort, Weygand and Reynaud face an almost superhuman task, and they are but men, called to face the result of mad imaginings. And yet, there is the glory of their ideals, for in spite of American writing and talking to the contrary, it HAS become a war of ideals. There is the feeling that their countries, and other suffering lands, look to them for succor in their time of supreme need, and they have a simple faith in the God of their fathers.

President Roosevelt gave voice to the voiceless in many lands, when he spoke with righteous indignation of the forces arrayed against the democracies. It with Winston Churchill's blunt statement of facts, will go down in history and live long after Hitler's hysterical phrases and Mussolini's howlings have died away. The words of no conqueror, save the Savior, of the world have lived and GROWN through the ages. Evil is eventually always overcome by good. In the hearts of the dictators are hate and the lust for power. In the hearts of the democratic leaders are the faith in their cause, a trust in God, and a desire to see the world once more FREE. The memory of the dictators will live only in history—the memory of our leaders will live in the hearts of their fellow countrymen.

is plenty of time to do it carefully. Select the men first. Let the firearms come later.

Another danger that we see is that such an armed force might eventually be used for other than defence purposes. In the possible after-war economic maelstrom such a force might be used for political purposes. Neither a loosely-organized police or military force, carrying arms, fits into our democratic system too well. There is always the possibility, when men feel that they have authority, and are not clear about their duties or are not subject to strict discipline, that they may take into their hands the administration of justice, a function for which a life-time's training is not too much.

A third danger is that by busying ourselves with such activities we may delude ourselves into a false sense of security. We may feel that we are making a large war effort and neglect the less heroic but more effective work of gathering up money for the prosecution of the war overseas. On the other hand, we recognize, it may work in just the opposite way. Civil guard activities may prove good advertising for the war and make it easier to raise money for war purposes. We hope so.

In any event, there is a real need for citizens to dig into their pockets and give money to the country, and we believe that an appeal from Ottawa for gifts, in addition to loans, is overdue. The Moslems of India are lending the government money without interest to prosecute the war. The town of Smiths Falls is talking of raising $20,000, the price of a tank, as a gift to the dominion government. What is Newmarket going to do?

Premiers Reynaud and Churchill were reported to have agreed on a plan for merging the British and French empires. It is reported the terms the two dictators are to offer France would crush that nation as a military power forever.

TWO MOTHERS INDULGE IN A SCRAP

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"They're seven little sweet-hearts, all right," Merry Chickadee confided happily to her friend, the White-breasted Nuthatch.

"And the way they look up at you—it's just the brightest thing you ever saw. And have you noticed the way they open their mouths when you bring them something to eat?"

"I certainly agree with every word you say," said Mrs. Nuthatch warmly. "I'm so glad you like my seven darling little Nuthatch babies."

"Seven little Nu-nu-nut-hatches," stammered Mrs. Chickadee, aghast. "I'm referring to my seven darling little Chickadee babies. I thought we were talking about my babies."

"Ha, ha, ha," replied Mrs. Nuthatch, "and I thought we were talking about mine, because of course, mine are the seven sweetest, most adorable, most intelligent."

"Why, Mrs. Nuthatch, surely you didn't take a good look at mine or you wouldn't make such extravagant statements about your children," exclaimed Merry sharply. "I'm really amazed that you could be so partial to your own."

"For mercy's sake, what about you?" inquired the Nuthatch crisply. "You're worse than I am, and with less justification."

"What did you say?" screamed the Chickadee, in a shrill chirp. "Really, Hattie, I thought we were friends, but honestly, when I think of you saying that those miserable, featherless little bits of greediness up there in that nest are nicer than my charming little Chickadee chickabiddies, I positively froth at the bill."

Mrs. Nuthatch was just about to retaliate with a ferocious peck at her Chickadee friend, when Young Chips, the Chickadee, and Nuthatch Nuthatch happily intervened, and just in time.

"Tut, tut, girls, what's all this fuss about," asked Young Chips sternly. "It looks as if you've been having a scrap."

POLICE COURT INDIAN'S ALIBI NOT ACCEPTED BY COURT

James Asquib, chief of the Snake Island Indians, was convicted on a charge of unlawful fishing in Lake Simcoe, when he appeared in Newmarket police court Tuesday. Last week Constable Prosser told the court that he had identified Asquib as one of a party of three men whom he and Game-Warden Gilroy of Sutton had observed fishing from a boat on the lake.

To corroborate his statement that he had been home during this incident, Asquib produced his brother as witness. However, Magistrate Woodliffe imposed a fine of $10 and costs for unlawful fishing and dismissed a second charge, possession of a gill-net.

Albert Kay, Toronto, charged with possession of a bass net, was fined $10 and costs. Constable Prosser testified.

In the case of Ned Figleuzzi, of Oak Ridge, charged with illegal possession of a revolver, Magistrate Woodliffe declared that the absence of a spring from the gun did not, as the defence contended, make it an offensive weapon. He fined the accused $10 and costs. His worship said that the weapon could be adjusted to fire in a short time.

Six persons charged with illegal parking on Sutton Main Street, had their cases adjourned one week pending word from the department of highways as to whether the by-law prohibiting such parking has been approved by the provincial authorities. Constable Burke laid the charges.

Fines of $5 and costs, on charges of speeding, laid by Constable Shadwick, were imposed on M. Starkman, Earle Olmstead, E. Leroy Cody, M. S. O'Brien, H. F. Sheldon, J. Montgomery, all of Toronto, and James Bowman, Newmarket.

Roy S. Jamieson, of Toronto, charged with speeding, Constable Ferguson, was fined $5 and costs. E. M. Dean, of Toronto, charged with speeding, Constable Dunham, was fined $8 and costs.

Arthur R. F. Napper, of Toronto, charged with dangerous driving, was fined $30 and costs. Oscar Halpern, of Toronto, charged with careless driving, was fined $5 and costs. Provincial Constable Ferguson testified in both cases.

guard should be selected and approved by the head of the municipality. This officer may be sworn in as an honorary member of Ontario Provincial Police reserve force.

Office accommodation and telephone should be provided for commanding officer and staff.

All willing to serve in civil guard should be registered.

A commander for each company, section or group should be a military or ex-service man if possible.

In selecting the required number from those who register due regard should be had for their military experience, character and judgment, in view of the fact that the guard may be armed. The men selected should be approved in writing by the head or a member of the municipal council. It is preferable that the enrolment should not include men qualified for service in the active service forces.

A representative of the attorney-general will inspect the guard when formed and the province will provide arm-bands. A plan of rapid mobilization in case of emergency should be formed.

Rifles were needed, Mr. Gladman said, asking that citizens lend any spare firearms they might have to the guard.

Mr. Gladman asked that the town vote $100, to be used for ammunition and improvement of targets at the Newmarket revolver club's Glenville range.

Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd said that the men should have their gasoline too.

"We want good level-headed fellows, who won't get excited and exceed their authority just because they have an arm-band," said Mr. Gladman.

"Why shouldn't it be restricted to veterans?" asked Councillor D. O. Mungovan, who was acting chairman.

"We talked it over and thought that it was best to make it half and half," said Councillor Wm. Dixon. "There are a number of young fellows in the revolver club who have arms and are well-qualified to use them. And they are anxious to be of help."

"What is the function of the civil guard?" asked Mr. Mungovan.

"Everybody has a different idea," said Mr. Gladman. "My thought is that there might be trouble along the railway when the police would need help. Others think they might be fighting parachute troops."

Mr. Mungovan thought that there was room in Newmarket for both a civil guard and a militia unit.

"Suppose we want to shoot somebody, who's responsible?" asked Alex. Eves jokingly.

"Have you got somebody in mind?" asked Reeve Fred A. Lundy.

"I wouldn't like to say," was the answer.

Mr. Mungovan asked if the mayor had taken any steps to act on an offer of the Queen's York Rangers to establish a militia unit anywhere in the county.

"I have established a civil guard," said the mayor.

"I am inclined to agree with Mr. Mungovan that there is room for a militia unit," said Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale.

Councillor A. D. Evans said that the federal government would supply ammunition to "home guards." The Newmarket organization was a "civil guard," other councillors pointed out.

"What if someone is hurt?" asked Councillor Frank Bowser. "Will the council stand behind them? Or what if a member of the guard is injured?"

"These questions have to be met," said Councillor Wm. Dixon.

It was agreed that insurance would be necessary.

WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS MEET AT CALGARY

The "Coming of Age" convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, scheduled for Calgary, Alberta, from July 4 to July 9, is expected to attract member publishers from every section of the dominion.

The Era will be represented by Miss Margaret VanZant.

Typical western hospitality will feature the whole convention program, which in addition to the business sessions will be featured by a thrilling side-trip to the Canadian Rockies, Banff, Lake Louise and Jasper. The convention has been specially arranged for these dates so that C.W.N.A. members from all over Canada may have an opportunity to attend the far-famed Calgary Stampede.

The Pulliser hotel, palatial Canadian Pacific hotel in Calgary, will be convention headquarters for the two-day business sessions, which will be followed by the colorful side-trip to the Rocky Mountain beauty spots.

While western hospitality will naturally be a highlight of the convention, weekly newspaper publishers attend these conventions primarily for the purpose of meeting and discussing their problems with fellow publishers, with the idea in mind of bringing back to their own newspapers the latest ideas adopted in the progressive weekly press of the nation. Weekly publishers are realizing more and more the tremendous influence they wield in the rural and small urban centres of the dominion, and these conventions are, in reality, the training ground for publishers who wish to keep abreast of the times in which they live.

One of the most important features of the business sessions is the "Better Newspapers Competitions." In these competitions handsome trophies are offered to newspapers in the various circulation divisions which are outstanding in their class. These competitions are for the best all-

Rev. Mr. Anderson of Sutton occupied the pulpit for the evening service. Dr. C. S. Gilbert of Newmarket and Mr. Geo. Altridge of Toronto assisted by rendering very effective solos.

LOCAL MARKET

Prices on the local market on Saturday for eggs were from 18 to 22 cents a dozen. Butter brought 25 cents a pound. Hens sold at 20 cents a pound.

Carrots and onions were 20 cents a six-quart basket. Asparagus, onions, lettuce and rhubarb were 5 cents a bunch. Cabbage plants sold at 25 for 10 cents.

TORONTO MARKETS

Prices on the Toronto markets on Tuesday for butter, creamery solids, No. 1, were 21½ cents, and creamery prints, No. 1, were quoted to retail trade at 23 to 23½ cents a pound.

Country dealers were quoted on graded eggs, cases free, round weekly newspapers in the groups comprising newspapers with over 2,000 circulation, newspapers with circulations between 1,000 and 2,000, and newspapers between 500 and 1,000 circulation. There are also competitions for commercial printing, and the sole intent of all these contests is to encourage the weekly newspaper publisher to produce a finer and better product than ever before.

The publishing field has such wide ramifications in these days, that the average weekly newspaper has long since ceased to be just a chronicle of the news events of the community it serves. Today the weekly newspaper gives leadership through its editorial column, interprets the news which appears in the paper, and produces commercial printing, which provides an outlet for the creative ability of the publishers.

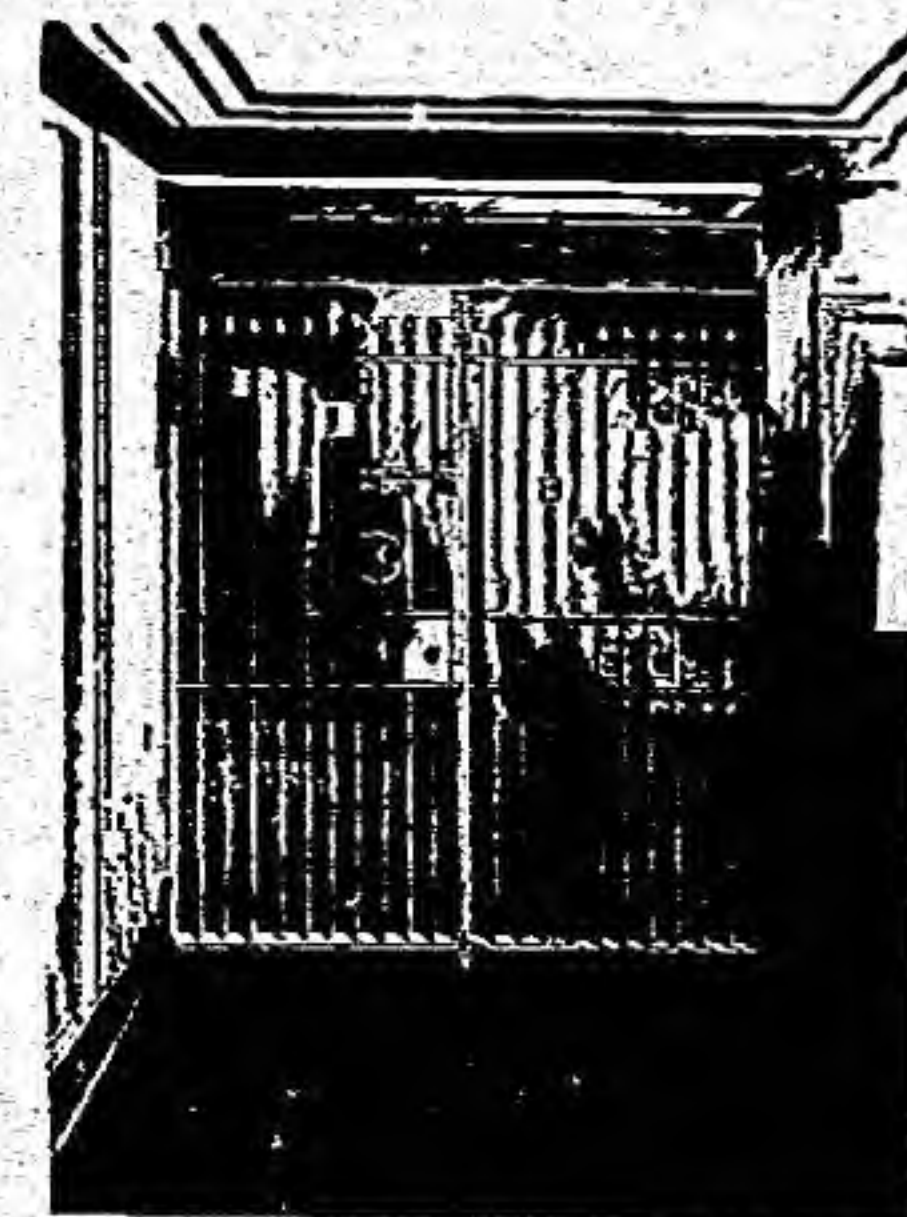

The convention sessions will feature addresses by speakers who are experts in their field, and these addresses are valuable sources of information for the weekly publishers who intend to keep up with the steadily changing trends of the publishing business.

On Thursday, July 4, the opening day of the convention, the city of Calgary will tender a civic luncheon to the publishers, and that same evening a trip will be made to the Turner Valley oil fields, where a tour of inspection will be made, and where the visiting editors will be guests of the gas and oil section of the board of trade at dinner.

The Calgary Herald, one of Canada's leading daily newspapers, will play host to the weekly editors on July 5, and on Friday evening the convention dinner will be held. When the awards in the newspapers' competitions will be announced and the awards made.

The four-day side-trip to the Rockies will include stops at Banff, Lake Louise, and Jasper Park Lodge. These were spots which immensely impressed their Majesties on their Canadian tour last summer.

The whole purpose of the newspaper convention is, not to pit one newspaper against another in competition, but rather, as Sir Walford Davies once expressed it, "They do not beat each other, but pace each other towards perfection."

Stanley Glen of Toronto, a former pastor of the church, preached the sermon, following which the formal part of the ceremony of designation was conducted by the moderator.

Rev. Joseph Wasson of Toronto, chairman of the missionary and deaconess training board, gave an address on missions, referring to them as "the real task of the church."

Miss Patterson was presented with a pin on behalf of the board of stewards of the church, a Bible by the dominion council executive of the church W.M.S., and a hymnal and locket by the congregation of the Aurora church.

Following the close of the ceremony and the benediction an outdoor reception took place in the church grounds.

Two appointments were made to the staff of the Aurora high school for the 1940-41 term by the board on Tuesday evening.

Miss Margaret Sanderson, a graduate of Queen's University in 1934, and who has been on the staff of the high school at Newmarket, Ont., has received the appointment to succeed Miss Florence Mitchell in Latin and physical culture.

Arnold Miller was appointed assistant science and mathematics teacher. A graduate of Western University, he was formerly on the staff of Albert College, Belleville.

DEFEAT FLIERS 2-1 IN SNAPPY GAME

Len Simmons' ambitious Aurorans chalked up their second win of the season by taking Camp Borden fliers 2-1 in a game that only took 50 minutes for seven innings of play, at Canada's Croydon last Thursday.

The fliers look as good as any team that Aurora has played this year, but so far they seem to be jinxed. Without exception the Aurora boys played a fine game in the field, making only two miscues. Hodgins made a lovely last inning stab of a liner, while in the sixth, Wilf. White made a sensational stop at the first sack.

Mechaniuk was the batting star, with three hits, including a lousy double. McComb and Birchard also delivered telling blows. Shore never appeared to better advantage, striking out 11 batters and allowing only four hits. The manner in which he kept on bearing down at all times indicates the schoolmaster has at last reached top form. Twice Borden had the bags full, and were kept off the score-sheet, on one occasion two batters were retired and on the other the third batter. Wes. Heaney replacing Cook behind the bat was the spark-plug that sent "Nuggets" and the rest of the team on the way to victory.

In the first inning, Mechaniuk got a hit as he beat out a bunt, but the next three went down in order. Lewis of the fliers got on with a double but the succeeding batters went out. Until the fifth inning only one Auroran reached first, McComb hitting a double in the fourth to tie at third. Fliers got their lone run in the second as Birchard let a roller get through him in the long grass, a stolen base sent Lewis to second, and he scored on two successive outs at first, narrowly beating an attempted double play.

In the third the sacks were filled, but no damage resulted, as clever plays cut off two batters. In the fifth, Birchard opened up with a ringing double, which he stretched into a third marker as Morton's throw got away from Walker. R. White struck out, and a wild pitch to Heaney tied things up as Birchard came home. Heaney popped to third and Mechaniuk drove out a two-bagger and with two out kept on travelling and came home with what proved to be the winning run, as the birdmen threw the apple with abandon.

Heaney and Mechaniuk got on in the sixth and seventh respectively, to no avail. The home-sters got three runners on but failed to tally in their half, and Shore, hurling superb ball, only allowed one hit in the sixth and seventh, striking out four in these frames.

Smith tossed a fine game for the fliers, allowing seven hits and striking out nine. Hellman handled him well and got a hit, Lewis, Gallop, and Walker getting the others. Bell was sensational at short.

Aurora: Mechaniuk, 3b; Pearce, rf; McComb, cf; W. White, 1b; Shore, p; Hodgins, ss; Birchard, 2b; R. White, lf; Heaney, c; Lowe, lf, in the seventh.

Camp Borden: Hellman, c; Lewis, cf; Gallop, 3b; Walker, 2b; Watson, 1b; Bell, ss; Longpre, rf; Morton, lf; Smith, p; Miller, cf., in the seventh.

IRONDUKES BEAT TEAM OF ELORA PLANT 8-4

George Wilson's Irondukes from the Fleury-Bissell plant visited Elora last Saturday and had no difficulty in disposing of the head office plant ball team 8-4, in a well-played game.

Following the match a party was held for the Aurora team. McComb and Heaney composed the local battery, McComb striking out 14 batters. The return game will be played here the first Saturday in July. Over 40 employees from the Aurora plant made the trip.

DOWN THE CENTRE

JUNE JAMBOREE

The Wolves are now howling for the scalp of Couze, the Barrie fastball hurler, alleging that his delivery is illegal. The same boy has taken the measure of every team in the group so far and by the same token the Barrie boys are perched up on the top rung.

Pete King, the little Chinese youngster, who plays outfield for the juniors, recalls to us the fact that there are probably fewer athletes in Canadian sports among the Chinese, proportionate to the number of residents in this country than any other nationality.

Lee Young will be remembered as the starry hardball infielder and hockey player, who played with Willowdale teams over a decade ago. This boy was really good, both in the field and at bat. While tho' light he could really stickhandle on the ice and didn't back away from his heavier opponents.

Bill Wong of Western "U" is a present-day standout both at football, where he is a deadly tackling outside wing, and on the forward line in the court game where he pops in baskets aplenty. His sister, Mary Wong, is also an intercollegiate basketball player of note.

Earl Lee, a pitcher in softball, is considered hot stuff locally by those who have played against him. Lack of ambition is all that has kept him out of senior football, tho' he wows them in mercantile.

Viola Long will also be remembered as the Chinese girl hurler at Sunnyside and the Beaches league who had plenty of stuff on the ball.

Camp Borden Fliers have one of the best ball clubs we've seen in some time, but to date they haven't been able to get a break. Smith and Gibb, who handle the mound duties, are in there all the time and plenty fast. Of the team that played against Aurora last week, three boys hail from Ottawa, two from Toronto, and Dalhousie, N.B., Vancouver, Regina and Kingston all have representatives on the line-up. The trip was an eye-opener to those who accompanied the team who have been wondering about Canada's war effort as they gazed upon row after row of tents, different types of uniforms, new buildings, mechanical equipment, new roads and went through the procedure of obtaining a "pass through" at two armed barriers. Athletic facilities are all that could be asked for as we saw at least six games of baseball and four games of soccer, plus horse-shoe pitching, and pre-season rugby work-outs taking place as we slowly drove through the camp to the air force grounds, which is a distinct entity by itself. The boys in khaki are looking in the pink.

Drillon and Hollett playing with the Redmen are not going to get into our hair in the least! An already strong team will merely be strengthened further, but despite the fact these two boys will play, it doesn't necessarily mean Newmarket has the title in the bag. However, it does raise an interesting point. What is the residence rule in the Simcoe league? No doubt whatever the other teams think, they will or have already been granted playing certificates by the two major officers of the league who reside, you know where. Drillon is vacationing at Roche's Point and playing already on a signed certificate with Danforth in the Davisville league. Hollett was for the past few years a bread salesman around the lake for a Toronto firm during the summer months. We understand he is spending the summer there this year.

These qualifications may or may not make up the residence rule. If Sutton had a team undoubtedly they would be forced to play with them, if they could qualify under league rulings, and we imagine there would have been an awful holler about it all, if that had happened. As it stands, Cam. Ecclestone, Susie Turner, or any of the Toronto fastballers may suddenly be as equally entitled to play for some of the other teams by reason of living at Musselman's or Wilcox lakes, Alcona Beach, Belle Ewart, Minett's Point or other spots.

Increased gates may be the answer as to why these two pro hockey players are asked to sign. The player limit, we believe, is 15, which would mean two players would have to be dropped to make room for Gordy and Bill. What two players have been dropped from the Redmen's roster would be interesting to know.

Girls' softball went over with a bang here last week as Thornhill and Newmarket girls battled away with the old pill. The brand of ball, while not too good, was interesting from a spectator's angle. Newmarket's new uniforms are certainly an eye-filler, while the southern girls looked very neat with their plainer outfits.

McCarnan and Hilliard, the opposing first and second sackers on the respective teams, were the outstanding stars of the game. Aurora had a real interest in the Newmarket team, for Mae Brown of Webster's crew is the former Mae Mugford. Another year will see both teams ready to meet more experienced competition.

Frank Mechaniuk, on the basis of figures including the Richmond Hill game, is leading the parade in bashing the ball on the Aurora team. The third baseman has a nifty total of .550 and is on a hitting spurge at the present time. Joint McComb and Grant Cook are next in line with a total of .428 each, while Wilf. White, with .317, is the only other better than average hitter.

Surprise of the list is Wes. Heaney at .148, but any pitcher that sells "little Julius" short is in for an awful mistake, for he is about due to start smacking the hurlers with the regularity that made him feared in the league other years. To date he has been hitting too easily but once again he is taking a cut at the sphere. Pearce, Ray White and Lowe are all bracketed at .250, with Shore .214, Birchard .210, and Hodgins at .133, bringing up the rear. Three or four of these fellows have hit timely blows, if not as plentiful as they might be. One bright spot about it all is that at any rate there's lots of room for improvement. Fielding, which was certainly very weak ten days ago, is now next to air tight and improved hitting will follow along as the boys get in shape.

Cliff Chapman in a handcar race to Bond Lake and return was given a real tussle before he came home in front, with seven other fliers closely bunched behind him in the following order: Jim Hanson, Harold Foster, Johnny O'Connor, Bob Benville, Tom Rae, Clarence Fisher and Mickey Smith. Smith was the only casualty of the race, suffering a bad spill, which handicapped him.

Previous to the dance the Aurora boys' band, under the direction of Bandmaster Robert Moore, gave a splendid program of music at the park and in front of the post office.

Lucky prizewinners were: first, 1940 radio, Ray Cox, Oshawa; second, floor lamp, Mrs. Frank Heaney, Aurora; third, wallet, William Walte, Jr., Aurora.

Better Off Dead

A wealthy man, intent on matrimony, told his friend one day that he was 60 years old and he asked his friend, "Would it be better if I told a young lady that I was 50?" "I'll be perfectly frank with you," his friend replied. "Your chances would be better if you'd tell her you are 75."

Newmarket bowlers annexed three out of four top prizes at the Aurora bowling club's doubles tournament last Thursday night, by either taking the decision on the greens or vanquishing their opponents on the draw.

Sixteen competed for the prizes, with bowlers being present from Newmarket, Richmond Hill, Uxbridge, and Clarendon. A. White and C. F. Willis of Newmarket had a high score of 38 for three wins, with Tom Birkett and F. Ward of Stouffville runners-up with 35. High score for two wins went to H. B. See-Saw Struggle With Hill Team Ends In 5-5 Draw

HILL EVENS SCORE WITH SNAPPY BASE-RUNNING LATE IN GAME

With a thrilling finish in both halves of the last inning Aurora and Richmond Hill ended a see-saw struggle on the local diamond 5-5 on Tuesday evening.

Although one more inning of play might have been concluded, both managements agreed to call the game and take one point apiece in the league standing, but if the game effects the final league standing it will probably be replayed. Not a murmur of dissent came from the large crowd, who saw Richmond Hill nearly toss the game away with some terrible fielding and then emerge with a tie by some smart base-running. Aurora appeared to have the game in hand until Charlie Ryan's roses, heartened by some sparking relief pitching by Ronnie O'Dell, got a few breaks ill-timed for the locals in the sixth and seventh.

Teddy Bennett, veteran ball tosser of the district, and plenty caged, found the going tough, as his mates, particularly Mabley in left field, fooled the ball. He was touched for six hits and struck out four in four innings. O'Dell faced 11 batters in three innings, striking out five and allowing two hits and the tying run in the last inning. Lowe went the route for the Simmons clan and almost tossed the game away with his wildness, continually getting himself into hot water. He had four strike-outs and allowed eight hits.

At bat Jimmy poled out two blows, one for a double and the other for a nice juicy error by Mabley. On both occasions he circled the sacks to score standing. Mechaniuk got three hits in five tries, while Shore, who pulled off two lovely catches in left field, drove in McComb with a double to tie it all up. Strange as it may seem, the three Hill runs were scored in two innings, after the Aurora boys had two out and none on and comparatively weak hitters facing Lowe. That's getting a tie the hard way!

Richmond Hill got the first counter of the game in the second inning. Bennett singled, Echlin followed suit, Buchanan walked to fill the bases and with two out Lowe forced Bennett to score as he walked Jim Crean. Lowe got back the run as his double went for a four-bagger. Aurora went out in front the last of the third, Mechaniuk getting the run following a single and errors on drives by Shore and W. White.

Keeping the roses silent they tucked on two more in the fourth, Lowe's drive to left being muffed up and the batter going the whole base route. Wes. Heaney got a Texas leaguer, and

McComb drove him home with a timely double to right.

In the fifth, after two were out and none on, Art Crean singled, and went to third as Harry Pearce played the ball nonchalantly. He scored on a hit by Mabley. In the sixth the black and gold boys got another in a similar set-up. Dykes popped a liner over first, White being out of position on the batter and Dykes travelling hard made second. Buchanan pumped a bullet drive at Hodgins, who tried hard for a catch, Dykes coming home.

In the last inning Jim Crean walked and before you could say Jack Robinson had promptly stolen a base. With one out, the reliable Bennett blasted a double, scoring Crean, and when Cochrane dropped a looper over second the Bennett boy ran like a jack-rabbit to come home with what looked like the winning tally. O'Dell meanwhile having securely shackled the Aurora guns.

Mechaniuk dropped a bunt and beat out the play for a hit. McComb forced him at second, took second on an out and came home as Nuggets Shore drove a lousy double. White and Birchard went out easily with the winning run perched on second. Costliest plays from an Aurora angle were Lowe's wildness in the first and seventh, Hodgins' failure to come in on a wild pitch in the second, when he was on third with one out, and slow fielding by Pearce, who previously had made two nice running catches. Mabley and Saul made costly Hill errors. Bennett's batting was a Hill feature, as was O'Dell's relief hurling.

Veterans Will Ask Council To Establish Civil Guard

WANT AFFILIATION OF LOCAL VETERANS WITH DOMINION BODIES

At an enthusiastic meeting on Monday evening in the town hall Aurora war veterans took steps to aid Canada's war effort.

Two resolutions were passed which will take the form of notices of motion to the North York war veterans' association and will be presented to the central body for approval at their next meeting.

Veterans' associations in North York, with the exception of the Newmarket association, are all separate units united in a central branch, the North York war veterans' association, which is not affiliated with any of the dominion veterans' organizations. The Newmarket branch is a unit of the Canadian Corps association.

The feeling of the meeting was that in order to strengthen a united war effort and to avoid duplication of services and activities, the central association and thereby each branch should affiliate with either of the two dominion organizations, the Canadian Corps Association or the Canadian Legion.

A further resolution was unanimously passed which will be presented the central body, to be forwarded to the dominion government, urging the adoption of immediate conscription of both man-power and wealth in Canada.

The meeting approved the formation of a volunteer civil guard under the plan suggested by Attorney-General Gordon Conant, whereby the municipal council sponsors the formation of such a corps locally, linked closely with the provincial police, and a committee of the local veterans, consisting of President George Duffield, Secretary

FACE TWO BIG GAMES

Two important football engagements loom ahead of the Aurora team in the next week.

Tonight the league-leading Barrie collegians invade Aurora and smarming under their reverse in the northern town Simmons' men are out for revenge, starting at 7.15. Shore will oppose Couze on the mound.

Next Tuesday the famous Newmarket Redmen come to town for the annual inter-town classic and this is one set-to no one can afford to miss. Both teams need the points for a win and there will be plenty of smart baseball played. Local fans have gone for the smart new programs and the lucky draws conducted by the club. Have you won a prize yet? Drop over to the park, see the game and come home a lucky winner.

NINETY LADIES ATTEND GRANDMOTHERS' MEET
Miss Ethel Ferguson visited in Bradford her former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wells, for a week recently.
That great storm of Friday, June 7, has certainly given people a lot of extra work to do. The ground has baked, making hoeing among the small plants difficult, and the flood of water and mud furrowed the drills and deposited an extra layer of good loam over the crops in the low-lands.
The promise of small fruits is good. The cherry trees look like a great crop of green peas just now and strawberries promise a bumper crop when they finally come. The problem just now is will there be strawberries for the promised festival? Everybody wants them for Thursday's garden party.
The Deisman-Shuttleworth families held their reunion at Alcona Beach on Saturday.

HELPING THE TOURIST Helps CANADA
EVERY year well over 10,000,000 tourists visit Canada from the United States. They spend some $250,000,000 in the Dominion. Canada's tourist trade has become one of the most important sources of the country's national income. Under stress of war, American tourist dollars are vital in providing needed exchange. Canada's Chartered Banks materially assist in promoting this valuable trade. Over 3,000 branch offices provide the tourist with familiar banking services throughout the Dominion—often in the most remote areas. At any of these branches travellers' cheques are cashed, drawings under letters of credit negotiated, money exchanged, tourist information gladly furnished by managers and staff. By friendly, courteous treatment and efficient service, Canada's Chartered Banks add to the warmth of welcome and encourage the stranger within our gates to return another year.
In war, as in peace, Canada's Chartered Banks maintain, uninterrupted, all their services to depositors, farmers, manufacturers, exporters—facilitating the nation's business—looking forward to peace with freedom as the only sure basis for enduring prosperity.
THE CHARTERED BANKS OF CANADA

of Eversley and a cousin, Mr. Harman, who came from New York to be present, attended this reunion.
Eversley juniors mission band held its meeting on Saturday in the church, with 12 members of the Temperanceville mission band as their guests.
In all, there were nearly 40 present, some of the parents being there. The Eversley youngsters put on a good program. Ross Bovairt presided. He and June Mesley gave readings.
Isabel Folliott and Marion Crossley sang a duet. Nancy Ball sang and a trio by Catherine and Violet McKie and Joyce Hately was enjoyed. Mrs. McClure gave a talk to the children, and Miss Annie Ferguson, leader, told a missionary story.
At the close of the service all repaired to the schoolhouse and grounds for recreation, then back to the church where lunch was provided.
Grandmothers' day, an annual institution at the home of Mrs. Wm. Carson, was held there on Thursday afternoon, being the United church W. M. S. June meeting.
This proved to be a wonderful event and in the fresh June surroundings an ideal quiet sanctuary for such a gathering. Nearly 90 ladies were present.
Mrs. Graves of Newmarket, mother of Mrs. Carson, was visiting there for a time and was the grandmother guest of honor.
Miss Babcock of Toronto, an ordained evangelist of earlier years and still a powerful exponent of truth, was the speaker. Her text was "Occupy till I come." Miss Babcock and Mrs. Beckett of Newmarket sang hymns together and Mrs. Bean of Aurora led in prayer.
A delightful social hour of fellowship was enjoyed on the lawn with the bounteous lunch.
On Monday morning, June 17, Mrs. Morrison, mother of Mrs. A. W. McClelland of Eversley Farm, passed away after an illness of some time. Mrs. Morrison lived most of the time in Toronto, but was at Eversley Farm for her last illness. She was in her 70's and was of a delightful personality.

Kettleby
A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Mrs. W. Gillham (nee Florence Dutcher) on May 30, in the parish hall. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received.
The Women's Association held its June meeting at the home of Mrs. J. A. Marshall. There was a good attendance. Mrs. H. Burns conducted the meeting and gave a very helpful study on "Service." The hostesses were Mrs. F. Billings, Mrs. H. Burns and Mrs. W. Crawford.
The 2nd line of King Baptist church entertained the members of Emmanuel Y.P.S. last Thursday night.
Rev. and Mrs. J. Galloway had Sunday dinner at Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson's.
Friends are glad to learn that Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marshall and Mrs. Jack MacDonald are im-

WHILE PLANTING IN ORCHARD GARDEN FINDS BURIED APPLES "AS GOOD AS NEW"
By DELPHINIUM
One day recently—first week in June, while working in the orchard garden, planting several varieties of marrows, squashes, melons and suchlike vines (to be) under an apple tree, I dug up some apples in perfect condition.
They were natural apples from a tree which has been grafted largely to Macintosh Reds. These were dry fleshed sweetish apples—quite small, but being hidden under leaves and earth they kept perfectly. In May I brought in apples from under another tree, larger but also of a dry nature.
Today I cooked the last russets. Russets will keep well into the summer if kept in the dark, covered with paper, or kept in a pit as we so often used to do, and be very acceptable between seasons.
Here is a snake story I was told today by our friend, Mr. Hiram Clark. Long years ago he helped a farmer look for his cow. They found it in a swampy raspberry patch. Presently they heard a peculiar noise. What was it? Then they saw a big snake coiled on a blackened stump. It had raised its head, opening its mouth wide, while giving a call of "danger" to its infant family. These little baby snakes wriggled quickly to the mother snake and disappeared down her throat to their sleeping pouch. The men killed the snake, cut it open and killed 13 babies. A snake, he says, may have a family as high as 17—quints several times over, eh?
Some time ago Bride Broder wrote telling of a campaign in an English town to save bones. These bones were separated from the regular garbage, and collected. The mayor of the town set the ball rolling by depositing the first bone. That collection amounted to 600 pounds of bone. This was one item of the 'save the little things' campaign. We were not told what use was made of these bones, but we presume they were ground to be used as fertilizer to grow more food.
A recent letter from England repeats their slogan "Dig for Victory," and hoped our gardens would produce good crops. My neighbor says plant more beans. He thinks there are lots of potatoes being planted, but emphasizes beans.
Some years ago I read in an English paper—The Daily Mirror—of a "tin-foil club." It was in connection with some association. Its members collected all forms of tin-foil, but also other things, rags probably—possibly old papers and magazines. There was a market for them, and with the proceeds they helped finance a hospital. The sum realized in the period of time was well worth-while.
Here, a friend of mine is saving all the tin-foil from tea and cigarette packages. I believe she is a "Daughter of the Empire" (the phone being out, I cannot ask her). The sale of this goes toward buying an artificial limb for a crippled child. So "many nickels mak a muckle."
It would seem to be the better policy to refrain from the use of cigarettes and contribute that amount to the good of the nation, than to smoke cigarettes for the sake of saving the tin-foil lining!
We would wish that old tin cans could be collected and melted. Recently Mrs. Stone, a missionary from Japan, was lamenting that she did not return to Japan till August. She would like to go in June in order to preserve fruit, for tin cans and therefore tin canned products, might not be available, as Japan wanted all the tin for war munitions. What really does happen to all the tin cans? Will the

QUEENSVILLE ARMY PLANE HAS TO LAND AT QUEENSVILLE
Excitement was created last Thursday when one of the twin motored army planes encountered engine trouble over Queensville. Heavy black smoke could be seen coming from the engine. The plane was flying quite low, and as it neared the village, the motors went dead. The flier made a circle and made a successful landing in a wheat field on the Kennedy farm. Mechanics were soon on the job from Malton air field. Owing to the ground being so soft, with so much rain, it was at first thought necessary to dismantle the plane and take it by transport back to Malton. However, this was deemed unnecessary, and it was pushed by hand further up in the field where a successful take-off was accomplished. The plane was down for some four hours and was flying between Malton and Trenton. Constable Jardine was in charge while the plane was down.

SLAPS 'N' SCRAPS

By RALPH M.
ADAMS

Alex. Webster and his ancient relies (as my pal implied a few weeks ago) staggered to another brace of victories this past week
over the Midhurst Foresters and the R.C.A.F.

In defeating the Fliers last Tuesday night on their home grounds the reds really beat a vastly improved team over the appearance here in the opener.

The armers' strong point was their mound where Lefty Smith,
a former Beaches leaguer from Toronto, held forth, and did he now the redmen down for six frames.

Not till the last batting of the game did the locals get to the posterior, but when they did they pounded enough runs out in jig time to put the old ball game
on ice.

Webster, making his first appearance of the season as a starting pitcher, came in for his share of glory when he held the fliers in check during the dying moments of the game when they were thirsting for revenge.

Miller, the fleet centre gardener of the birdmen, again demonstrated he is one of the best fielding men in the league when he ran miles to snag Cain's bid
for a homer in the sixth.

Both teams were hampered in their fielding due to the rough condition of the diamond and the outfielders had to be lucky not to lose the pill in the alfalfa.

Just in case some of you ball fans don't know the calibre of ball being played in this town league of ours let me tell you a few of the facts.

Last Friday night Pete Kaus of the Office Specialty and Stan.
Evans of the Sons of England hooked up in as good a hurling duel as ever seen in this burg
and I do mean EVER SEEN.

When the smoke of battle had cleared away both pitchers had 14 strike-outs and had given up five hits each and two walks.
However, the Sons copped the verdict by the odd run in three,
due to some fielding lapses on the part of the furniture lads.

Again on Tuesday night of this week the bugle band and the O.S.M. fought it out, with the buglers losing by a single marker
in the tightest type of a contest.

Despite the fact that the boys are playing first-class ball and hustling every minute, the size of a crowd they are getting would hardly put a corporal's guard to shame.

In a wild exhibition of softball the local girls' team nosed out the Dorsets of Toronto on Monday evening before a crowd that rooted themselves hoarse
for the visitors.

This game was a little of everything but mostly arguments
and the crowd sure displayed their dislike for the verbal type of ball.

Along the grapevine . . . No knocks this week, everything is hunky-dory so far, how long this state will last I can't say . . .
It's probably due to my puerility (value $2.00) . . . In reference to my slap-happy ideas
there are some people that have plenty of punch drunk thoughts themselves and don't hesitate to put them on paper . . . Lefty
Smith who hurled for the Fliers
Tuesday is a former teammate of Doug Trivett . . . Both were on the senior city champs a few years back in the Queen city

Some of the local softballers are having a swell time getting used to their new spikes
The new footwear has a tendency to throw the boys
when they attempt to put on the brakes when in full flight . . .
Giles and Peters pulled a nice double killing in the Fliers' game Tuesday. Speedy scooping up a grounder to touch the man going
by and tossed to Bob to complete the play . . . Tonight the Richmond Hill squad visit us for their first appearance of the season,
so the fire should fly as the Hillies always fight to the last batter . . . Well the news is fading and the hour glass is draining, so I will have to shut off . . . So long.

GIBNEY HOMERS TWICE AS REDS TRIUMPH 9-2

By RALPH M. ADAMS

"Lefty" Glover, the kid hurler
of the Redmen, held the Midhurst Forester outfit in the hollow of his hand as his mates pounded Scanlon's offerings for a score of

IS A SOUTHERNER

The charming child above is Miss Elizabeth Robinson, 18-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Robinson, Bur-

2-2 last Thursday on the local diamond.

Only in the fourth when they scored their only counters did the northern team threaten. Not only did Glover receive first-class support in the field, but the big guns of the willow, with Gibney in the lead, gave him plenty of backing at the plate. Scanlon, although not blessed with the hitting support that Glover had, would have looked a lot better if his mates hadn't heaved the pill to the far corners of the field at every opportunity.

Reds Attack Early
Only four of the Foresters faced Glover in the first inning, with Murphy getting as far as second on an error. In the local half of the opener Giles got a life when Murphy dropped the throw. Hilton went out, Cain doubled through second to score Giles. Gibney followed with a single. Cain tallied, Peters singled to right, scoring Gibney, but Burkholder and Bulmer faded away. The reds were in the lead 3-0 and just beginning to scent
the kill.

Glover really bore down in the second by striking out Miller, Scanlon, and J. Smith in order,
as the boys couldn't seem to touch the southpaw's assortment.
Luck struck out to open the locals'
half of the second and Glover walked. Giles beat out an infield hit, Hilton struck out swinging and Cain walked to fill the stations.

Gibney came up and, after kidding Scanlon with about four fouls,
slammed one to the race-track
fence for a four-bagger and a "ball-player's dream," scoring Glover, Giles and Cain ahead of himself.
Peters walked and stole second with Scanlon out of the box. The Foresters kicked on the decision, but the play was legal. Burkholder went out to end the rally at four runs, leaving the Redmen the lead
at 7-0.

Midhurst Tally Brace in 4th Both teams did in the third, with Luck having the only hit on either team. In the fourth Murphy singled to open the half,
getting the first real hit that Glover had yielded. Miles followed on free transportation by Glover, and Russell slammed out a single to score Murphy and Miles.

Miller got on when Burkholder dropped the ball on the third strike. Then Glover put on the pressure, fanning Scanlon and J.
Smith. W. Smith, the catcher, singled to right but Gibney threw out Russell at the plate, Gibney to Burkholder.

The locals replied to the Mid-hurst threat in their half of the inning. Hilton opening the hostil-ties with a triple to centre. This smash was the longest hit yours truly has ever seen "Peewee" pull out of the bag. Cain went out but Gibney came through with his second four-bagger of the evening,
scoring Hilton ahead of him.

Peters died and, altho' Burkholder came through with a double, Bulmer passed away behind him.
Thus the scoring ended with both teams tallying a brace each.

Players who caught my eye on the Midhurst aggregation were W.
Smith, who caught a sweet game
and had one hit, Murphy, on the initial sack, and McMaster at short. On the locals all the boys played heads-up ball, with Glover, pitching, and Gibney, Luck and Peters in the dynamite department, being the stand-outs.

PEPPER AND SALT

By "PEP"

"Wow, you should see the dames here. If I'm not back by Monday send anyone but Art Bennington after me."

Such was the colorful message
the fellows in the Davis Leather
office received from Frank Baillie, the roaming cyclist in these hills, last week. It was written from Cornwall, where the girls
out-number all available mascu-lines by quite a margin. They work in the mills. Frank is back home and Cornwall is grieving.

Lefty Kaus pitched a nifty game of hardball for the Office Specialty Tuesday night and I'm sending him some Walter Winchell oichids (a bouquet in print). The southpaw got some experience with the game in his old stamping grounds. Fourteen strike-outs in one game is a mark that will stand for some time. And in case you haven't yet seen a hardball game this season you will be agreeably surprised by the smart brand, of fastball the boys play.

SONS DOWN SPECIALTY
IN HARD STRUGGLE

Before a crowd of about 150
persons Friday night at the fair grounds, the Sons of England took the Specialty into camp by a 2-1 score.

The first inning for the Specialty went scoreless with Stan.
Evans for the Sons of England striking out three Specialty batters.

In the last half of the first Albert Evans, Sons of England centre fielder, was safe when Powell, the Specialty catcher, dropped a third strike. On a sacrifice hit and passed ball Evans scored the first run of the game.

The Specialty scored their only run in the second when Powell got on base on Gibney's error
and eventually scored on Kause's hit.

The Sons of England scored the winning run in their half of the second when Langton, their third sacker, got a base on balls and scored by stealing three bases on successive pitches by Kause.

From the second inning on both pitchers showed rare form
by mowing down the batters almost one after the other. Both pitchers looked very good, and each struck out 14 batters. Kause walked two batters and Stan.
Evans one, while Evans hit one batter.

For the Sons of England Stan.
Evans was without a doubt the outstanding player, with brother Charlie following very closely behind.

No particular Specialty player stood out with the exception of Kaus although it was very noticeable that Kaus pitched much better when Boyd went in to catch in the third.
A prize is being given to a lucky spectator at each game.

CRONSBERRY DIES

Ill in the Western hospital,
Toronto, for the past six weeks,
Richard Cronsberry, one of the best known and most highly respected of the district's residents, passed away last Tuesday
in his 81st year.

Mr. Cronsberry was popular with young and old, and had led an active life, much of it spent in the service of Georgina township as a council member. He was the reeve of the township

for a 15-year term and after serving on various posts in York county affairs, was honored with election as warden in 1922.

In his own affairs Mr. Cronsberry was always quite successful as a farmer until he retired
a few years ago, handing the active management of the farm to his son, Roy.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs.
Benjamin Cronsberry, Mr.
Cronsberry was born on his farm home on the Sutton line. The family are of Irish extraction.

Mr. Cronsberry was twice married, his first wife being Alice N. Dalton, and the surviving children are: Alberta, Mrs.
J. Greenwood, Toronto; Roger,
Ottawa; Norman, Hamilton, and Maud, Mrs. Charles Gould, Uxbridge.

He was married the second time to Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of a well-known Georgina family, who survives with their children, Pearl, Mrs. F. G.
Crosby, Uxbridge, Roy on the farm, and Olive, Mrs. Harmon, Toronto.

The funeral, which was very largely attended, was held from his late residence last Friday to Briar Hill cemetery, Sutton, under the Masonic Order, the service being conducted by his pastor, Rev. N. S. Anderson.

Floral tributes of sympathy,
which were too numerous to mention, were carried by his grandchildren, Joan and Helen Crosby, Uxbridge; Helen, Norma
and Wesley Cronsberry of Hamilton; Maud Greenwood, Toronto; Eric Cronsberry at home, also the Masonic lodge.

The pallbearers were his five grandsons, Alex. Cronsberry, Ottawa, Russell and Walter Gould, Uxbridge; Ivison Greenwood, Burwash; Alvin Greenwood, Stouffville, and John Laviolette.

Ravenshoe

Many friends wish a speedy recovery of health to Mrs. Wm.
Crowder, who for the past week
has been very ill.

A large number of old friends and relatives attended the memorial service and unveiling of the memorial windows for Mr.

MOUNT ALBERT
W.I. ENTERTAINS
ELMHURST INSTITUTE

Elmhurst Institute members were the guests of the Mount Albert Institute at the June meeting, which was held in the basement of the church on Thursday afternoon of last week. There were about 25 of the Elmhurst ladies present and they gave a very splendid and varied program.

The president of Elmhurst Institute gave an excellent talk and demonstration on "Paper, and its many uses in the home." There was also a humorous reading and a solo, besides some items from a scrapbook, given by one of their oldest members.

The Mount Albert members decided to enter the quilting contest at the Toronto exhibition again this year. A picnic also was planned to be held later in June. There was an exhibition of the "hobbies" and many of the ladies showed fancy work, quilts, rugs, needlepoint work etc.

Tea was enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

Miss Edna Griffith of Toronto is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Griffith.

Mr. Bruce Ramsay of Barrie, field training camp was the guest of Miss Doris Draper on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Walker are visiting at the home of their son, Mr. Max Walker, at Greenville.

How much better the streets, and sidewalks in particular, would look if the grass were cut away. Some places are a disgrace to the village.

The members of Onward Lodge I.O.O.F. held their annual memorial service on Tuesday evening of last week, when Rev. Hugh Shannon of Queensville spoke. His subject was "Friendship, Love and Truth." He said love had gone out of the chain and when it was gone friendship and truth were severed.

There was, in the world today, too much criticism, he said, and how true it is. Let all try and do less of it and have more love for their fellowmen. T. Allison sang. Robt. Harrison also spoke a few words and Allan Hopkins was chairman.

The horticultural societies of district No. 5 will hold their annual picnic this year at Midhurst on Wednesday, July 10, to which all are welcome.

Mrs. Isaac Allison and daughter of Washington, U.S., was a guest last week of her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. Blyth.

Mount Albert played ball at Vandorf on Monday evening. The result was a score of 6-5 in favor of Mount Albert.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carr and Mrs. Barnett motored to Moorefield for the weekend. Mrs. Barnett is remaining for a visit with her niece, Miss Metcalfe.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Pegg of Keswick were visitors last week at Mr. and Mrs. Carr's.

Elizabeth Pryne, wife of the late William Thompson, was buried here on Wednesday of last week. She only survived her husband a few months and passed away at the home of Mrs. Johnson at Bogartown.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson had been residents of Mount Albert for some years and leave behind with all that knew them pleasant memories of a fine old couple. They had no family, but leave several nieces and nephews.

Mr. Geo. Feasby has sold his house to Mr. Ira Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Feasby of Kitchener were in town on Saturday.

A meeting of the York County branch of the Rural Mail Couriers Association was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Carr. Mr. E. Cummins was in the chair. Plans for the annual picnic, to be held at Kitchener on July 1, were discussed and many expressed their intention of being present.

The coming fifth annual convention was discussed, which will be held at Peterboro on Labor day. It was felt that the couriers should offer all possible assistance, in any way, to the dominion government during these critical times. After the meeting refreshments were served by the ladies.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Carr for their hospitality. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. C. Paisley on Thursday, July 11.

account of darkness and three games were rained out.

Mr. and Mrs. Green of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner of London, Ont., were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Clarke, Jr., on Sunday.

The Elmhurst Beach branch of the Red Cross will meet every Tuesday evening at Mrs. Coulson Cameron's, "The Terryholme," for work.

There will be material there to sew and the branch would like all the ladies of the community to come and help, as the need is great. The first meeting will be in the form of a business meeting to plan for a baking booth for the bazaar, to be held at Mr. McKinnon's estate at Roche's Point in July. All the ladies who possibly can are asked to come to this meeting.

There was a good attendance at the Institute meeting at Mrs. Deavitt's home on Wednesday of last week and the ladies were so glad to have Mrs. Lewis out with them again after her serious illness.

It was a grandmother's meeting and Mrs. Lewis brought several articles to show the ladies, that were around 100 years old.

About 20 members of the Elmhurst Beach Institute visited the Mount Albert branch on Thursday of last week. After the business part and the program, a dainty lunch was served, and a very social time spent by all.

MURIEL GLOVER IS BRIDE OF H. SHAW

A pretty wedding took place on Saturday at the United church manse, Keswick, when Muriel Edith Glover, daughter of Mr. Harold Glover and the late Mrs. Glover of Ravenshoe, became the bride of Mr. Harry Shaw, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaw, Sutton West. Rev. C. E. Fockler officiated.

The bride looked charming in a dusty pink sheer with white accessories, wearing a corsage. She was attended by her sister, Miss Madge Glover, who wore dusty pink sheer with grey accessories. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Roy Shaw.

After a reception held at the home of the bride, the happy couple left amid showers of confetti on a motor trip through northern Ontario.

SEES MANY EMPTY

By REV. R. R. McMIATH

We stayed overnight in Moose Jaw. It is a lovely little city. Very different from what I had remembered it. The mud street has been macadamized and the board sidewalks are now cement. Hotels are numerous and comfortable and the city folk seemed contented and well dressed.

It takes its name from Moose Jaw creek. It is derived from an Indian word meaning "the place where the white man mended the cart with the jaw-bone of the moose." The stores are quite up-to-date. We left there by the north local at 11:35 Thursday, and our first sight was a relic of the dust storm of recent years. The dust was piled high along the railway; some places as high almost as the fence. Much of it will never be removed for already there has grown a good crop of weeds on top.

I saw a gate opened inward which will likely never be closed again. It interested me very much. Ten years ago I went to the agricultural college for a course of lectures on the modern farm, and one thing I remembered was the professor's statement about gateways. Ever getting larger to admit wider machinery. It also reminded me of the hymn, "Where the gates swing outward never."

During the last war a father went to New York to say goodbye to his young son, who was sailing for the front. As the boat pulled out the young man shouted, "Goodbye, dad. If I don't come back I'll meet you where the gates swing outward never." The father went home and made that the title of a lovely hymn. Well, here was the gate opened inward and the dust piled high to the top wire, so it is not likely the dust will ever be drawn away or the gate closed again. Large stretches of the highway, running by the side of the railway, have gravel surface.

Homes are very much as I had known them, but many were empty. Discouraged folk had just moved out, many going north to begin again. The door had been pulled off the barn and used to board up the windows of the house. In some cases the house and barn had gone completely to wreck and ruin. In a later article I shall have more to say about this particular scene. Its effect upon school and church, etc., etc. Canada may be at war, but she surely does not seem to need scrap. It is amazing what old scrap and old machinery appear to decorate every homestead. The absence of bush and trees makes the sight so unseemly.

About every seven miles we stop, for is it not another little village? My, how these little stations need to be painted! Evidently their day of usefulness is past or the great railway company would surely count it false economy to allow such dilapidation. It is funny to see the local postmaster, or other, take the mail off the train and up to the post office on a kiddie car. One place a man took it on a wheelbarrow; and still another on a hand cart. None of the conveyances were marked "G. R. Royal Mail."

The sun was very strong and the trainman pulled all the blinds on one side, so we missed some of the villages. However, if we could count the elevators we judged the size of the place. A good crop last year meant that at many points additions were added to the elevators. By the way, many of these are still full. Others are being emptied just now, as prospects for 1940 are favorable. I missed the sight of the old slough. I used to drive across country and now hay in them. Nowadays, they are modern. Built at the expense of the government as an experiment for retaining water.

The whole sight of the 100-mile trip can well be imagined if you read the first speech of the new lady member of parliament. She and her husband and three children lived on $11 a month relief. Large stores have been closed. Lumber yards are closed. Harness shops and buggies, blacksmith shops and horses are few and far between. Gophers and rabbits still seem plentiful. Russian pheasants and Russian chickens are still in abundance. It's the spirit of the people that helps them to carry on. Again and again I have asked myself, why do they stay?

"Oh, love builds on the azure sea, And love builds on the golden sand, And love builds on the rose-winged cloud, And sometimes love builds on the land!"

THEY'RE HANDING OUT A REAL BRAND OF BALL

Behind the steady and at times brilliant pitching of Pete Kaus, the Office Specialty took the bugle band into camp 4-3 on Tuesday night. This well-built, left-hander fanned 14 men and pulled out of some tough spots by delivering his smoke ball at the right time.

The bugle band did its most effective slugging in the first inning. Fairley walked and advanced on a clean single by Brown. Gunn whiffed. Both base runners stole a base and came in on Preston's crisp single to right field. Preston was caught on the bases and Andrews then fanned to retire the side with two runs.

Office Specialty came into the heavy sugar in the third, fourth and fifth innings.

Johnny O'Halloran got two bases from a hit perfectly placed down the left field border-line to start action in the 3rd and was knocked in by Hooper.

In the fourth, Murray Boyd smashed out the first single and came in on a double by Kaus. During Vandenburg's tenure at bat, Dobbie, the bugle band catcher, got jump on seeing Kaus sliding along to the third sack and badly over-threw his peg to Fairley on the hot corner, allowing Kaus to score the second run. This put the Specialty one up.

Widdifield got the last counter for the Office being knocked in by Gord Gardiner, who came in as pinch-hitter in the fifth.

You never can take the buglers lightly even when they are losing badly. In the sixth they nearly sunk the Specialty ship.

Gunn singled. Kaus got generous and issued two walks to Preston and Andrews, loading the bases. With Dobbie at bat, the buglers managed to confuse Kaus and slip Gunn across the plate. However, the southpaw steadied and proceeded to win the old ball game.

Preston was surprised when taking a long lead off third and was caught between two fires, Boyd tagging him. Kaus then fanned Dobbie and Ruddock to retire the side.

Kaus was responsible for two of the Office Specialty runs, besides pitching a good game. Murray Boyd, behind the plate, directed his pitches to safe and effective channels.

Blight pitched effectively for the buglers. Bill Everest was their steadiest performer, getting two hits and playing faultlessly in left field.

FINAL INNING RUN BREAKS FEMININE TIE

The Newmarket softball girls bested Dorsts of Toronto in a nine-inning exhibition fixture at the fair grounds Monday, scoring 12 runs to 11. The game, which was a see-saw battle all the way, was decided when Newmarket scored a tie-breaking run in the final frame.

The Dorsts helped along the reputation that Toronto has for producing fine feminine teams when they scored six runs in the first inning. However, the locals soon recovered their acumen and steadily reduced this lead with timely hitting.

Ruby Chant was pitching a smart brand of ball, but Pearson, the Dorst slinger, seemed to have just a slight edge in that department.

Newmarket scored one run in the first, four in the third and two in the fourth to enter the fifth inning one run up. Dorsts came back in the fifth as Robinson, their first baseman, drove a four-bagger deep into right field to send in two runs. This was the best blow of the game.

"You can't beat us," said the local girls, and they took the field with renewed vigor to finally eke out a win.

Two fledglings, Phyllis Osborne and Mary Hisey, won their wings in this game, for they stood out with excellent efforts. A double play, M. Osborne to Beckett to McCarnan, was the top defensive play of the contest.

Ashton, the Dorst catcher, Pearson on the mound and Robinson, the first sacker, provided some balm to soothe the vanquished Torontonians. These same two teams hook up again July 6.

MITCHELL FAMILY HAS BIG REUNION

On Saturday 125 members of the Mitchell family gathered at the lovely farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lewis, on Yonge St. near Newmarket, for their annual re-union. Mr. Lewis was president for 1940.

Sports had been arranged under the sponsorship of Ernest Lynn of Toronto, assisted by E. J. Druery, Will Rodick and Garfield Weston, and were enjoyed by all, many of the events causing lots of amusement for the on-lookers.

Special prizes were awarded for the youngest child, who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Marchant, Schomberg; the couple who had been married the longest time, won by Mr. and Mrs. John Watson, Weston; and those coming the greatest distance, won by Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hunter, who came from Grimsby.

The married ladies were in charge of the supper tables. The color scheme was green and the flowers were iris, peonies and bridal wreath.

Following the supper Alfred Lewis asked for a two-minute silence for W. J. McAllister, who passed away early in the year and who was president at the time of his death.

Silence was also observed for any members who passed on during the year.

The chairman then called on several for speeches and among others his own pastor, Rev. Burton Hill, the Friends church, Newmarket, who spoke in a very pleasing manner.

The group was invited to Hunter's Grove at Grimsby for the 1941 picnic and the invitation was accepted.

A contribution was sent to the Red Cross Society.

The following officers were elected for 1941: hon. presidents, Peter Mitchell, Nashville, and John Watson, Weston; president, Wm. Johnson, Maple; treasurer, Jas. Harper, Bolton; secretary, Miss C. Perdue, Toronto.

FALL WHEAT FLATTENED

Farmers of York county were the worst sufferers as the severe electrical storm, which passed through the country early Wednesday morning, left huge quantities of fall wheat lying flat on the ground.

The hay crop was also severely hit, but the loss will not be as great.

to score Smith. The next two men died in their tracks.

In Newmarket's third they tied the count. Bulmer fanned, Luck singled sharply through short, Webster fanned but Giles came through with a single to score Luck and tie the old ball game. On this play Luck injured himself.

The last of the third and the first of the fourth brought no further scoring but the airmen again broke out in the fourth to garner a brace of runs. Gibb, first man up in the fourth, singled. Longpre fanned, but Smith came through with a rousing four-bagger to bring in two runs. These were the last runs the Force men gathered in before the game ended. In the fifth and sixth both sides went out in order, both hurlers bearing down and each having five strike-outs in the two innings.

Redmen Break Loose

With a two-run deficit staring them in the face, the reds went to work in the seventh on Smith, who had held them practically handcuffed all evening. "Chuck" VanZant started the fireworks with a double to centre, then Bulmer walked and Trivett smashed a hit to right for two bags, scoring the former two. Webster worked until he received free transportation.

Giles sent out a long sacrifice fly that advanced both runners. Then Hilton fanned. Cain came up and banged a single through first base to score Webster and Trivett and sew up the game. This last rally gave the red team their five runs and the margin to win as the fliers passed away in order in the last of the seventh.

On the airmen's roster, Smith, of course, was the shining light with his steady hurling and sparkling hitting, with Walker and Miller also showing to good advantage. On the locals VanZant, Trivett and Cain shone at the plate with their timely hitting, while Giles and Peters pulled a sweet double play for the fielding feature of the night.

R.C.A.F.: Heenan ss, Miller cf, Gibb c, Longpre lf, Smith p, Walker 2b, Bell 3b, Woods rf, Watson 1b, Mainbridge (batted for Woods in 7th).

The last of the third and the first of the fourth brought no further scoring but the airmen again broke out in the fourth to garner a brace of runs. Gibb, first man up in the fourth, singled. Longpre fanned, but Smith came through with a rousing four-bagger to bring in two runs. These were the last runs the Force men gathered in before the game ended. In the fifth and sixth both sides went out in order, both hurlers bearing down and each having five strike-outs in the two innings.

Redmen Break Loose

With a two-run deficit staring them in the face, the reds went to work in the seventh on Smith, who had held them practically handcuffed all evening. "Chuck" VanZant started the fireworks with a double to centre, then Bulmer walked and Trivett smashed a hit to right for two bags, scoring the former two. Webster worked until he received free transportation.

Giles sent out a long sacrifice fly that advanced both runners. Then Hilton fanned. Cain came up and banged a single through first base to score Webster and Trivett and sew up the game. This last rally gave the red team their five runs and the margin to win as the fliers passed away in order in the last of the seventh.

On the airmen's roster, Smith, of course, was the shining light with his steady hurling and sparkling hitting, with Walker and Miller also showing to good advantage. On the locals VanZant, Trivett and Cain shone at the plate with their timely hitting, while Giles and Peters pulled a sweet double play for the fielding feature of the night.
